It is truly a unique field when you have customer's who refer to you as "my lawyer", "my accountant", "my dentist". This reference speaks about the trust earned, and the experience and integrity shown by the provider. It is with pleasure and confidence that I write this letter acknowledging the exceptional work of Paul D'Angelo of D'Angelo Legal.

I write this letter from two different perspectives as I have used Paul's services for my business and for personal issues.

Paul has advised me, and created legal documentation for two businesses that I operate. The first is a Training and Development company and the other is a music business. In both cases, Paul worked quickly and efficiently and produced the necessary items in a highly professional manner.

On the personal side, Paul has created wills, trusts, and given expert legal advice to myself and my husband.

When I have a need for legal services or advice, Paul D'Angelo is the person I rely and depend on. Paul used plain English to explain processes and legal issues and I have found him to be exceptionally patient in those times when I needed further clarification.

I strongly recommend Paul D'Angelo to any and all who have a legal need.
