

PAPERCHASE BOOKKEEPING

Dear Paul

Having recently divorced I needed to get my financial affairs in order and to make sure I had a will to look after my boys and to lock out my ex husband.

I run my own business which puts severe strain on the time I have available during my working day for personal appointments.

No problem to Paul, he came to his office early in the morning to accommodate MY busy schedule, that really impressed me and that was just for starters

I had thought "this will be so simple it will be done in no time" , but after talking with Paul I discovered areas I had never even considered especially with regards to the continued operation of my business.

Paul then came early to his office again to allow me to sign the documents, even bringing one of his staff in early as a witness.

The service I received from Paul was professional, informative, accommodating of my time and all done with a smile, who said lawyers are "stuffy" ?

Thank you Paul and staff I am now confident that should anything happen to me, my business will survive and my children will be well taken care of.

Regards
