We had previously worked with Paul D'Angelo prior to Paul commencing his own legal practice. On hearing that Paul was branching out on his own, we had no hesitation in moving our business with Paul to D'Angelo Legal some three years ago.

Paul has assisted us on legal matters ranging from debt collection to strategic business advice including contractual documentation and representation.

I have always found Paul to show empathy and understanding, however never losing sight of the commercial problem at hand. Paul's advice has always been accurate and his dealings have always been timely and explained in easy to understand terms.

Paul is always available for assistance, and if not, will always return your call promptly. Paul is a personable and professional lawyer, with excellent "character" instincts and effective commercial acumen.

I would have no hesitation in recommending D'Angelo Legal.
